

European and Eurasian Studies Program

Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs

Information Wars Investigating Propaganda, Perception and the Politics of Protest in the Digital Age in Eastern Europe

Lecture by Dr. Patrick Bell, FIU

Wednesday, March 30, 2016 | 5:00 PM - 6:30 PM | FIU Modesto A. Maidique Campus | SIPA 502

With over 20 years of experience, either working for or investigating governments at all levels, Dr. Patrick Bell is a specialist in comparative public administration and political methodology. Using a triangulated approach, Dr. Bell's research involves applying novel quantitative methodologies such as social network analysis to complex political phenomena including corruption, disaster management and protest movements. Dr. Bell has presented his research at the American Political Science Association, in various international forum in Western and Eastern Europe and in regional media in Eastern Europe.

His current research projects include investigating the effect of social media and asymmetric information operations on conflicts in Eastern Europe, including the ongoing crisis in Ukraine.

Co-sponsored by the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet Center of Excellence, Department of Criminal Justice and Department of Politics and International Relations.

RSVP by March 25th to Christine I. Caly-Sanchez at calyc@fiu.edu.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact 305-348-5949.